

What is the Product?

L'Oreal RevitaLift™

What is it used for?

- It is an anti-wrinkle skin cream.

What's Nano about it?

- RevitaLift™ contains 200 nanometer polymer capsules filled with nano-sized nutrients that penetrate deep into the skin.
- Particles are so small that they let light through and make the cream translucent on the skin.

How does it work?

- After absorption, the outer layer of the capsules dissolve into the skin.
- Nutrients like Vitamin A, retinol, or beta-carotene help fight signs of aging and the deeper they penetrate the skin, the more effective they are.

Does it have other applications?

- It can potentially be used in other cosmetics
- It can possibly be used in other lotions where deep penetration is needed.

Price:

- The cost is $13.89 for RetivaLift™ Intense Life Treatment Mask

Glossary

- Translucent: Object, liquid, or product that allows light to pass through.
- Absorption: To take in (in this case, through the skin's pores).

This information came from:

<http://www.smalltimes.com>

Definitions came from:

<http://dictionary.reference.com>